Good Food, Fun, & Beer at Chili Cook-Off

This year's Bates-Hendricks Neighborhood Chili Cook-Off was held at Fountain Square Brewery. The brewery was kind enough to donate their wonderful space to us for the event. It was an exciting day, with 12 different delicious chilis to taste, 4 chili category prizes, and raffle prizes every 10-15 minutes. New Bates-Hendricks Neighborhood T-shirts were also unveiled at the cook-off, and new Bates-Hendricks buttons were given away at the door.

Our line-up of chili judges consisted of Hilda Cano – Proprietor of Mama Irma's, Dan Forestal – State Representative District 100, Lisa Laflin – Neighborhood Liason to the Mayor's office, and Justin Moed – State Representative District 97.

This year's winners were David Duff for his white chili (he also won People's Choice), Rob Uppencamp for his red chili, and Emily Vanest for her vegetarian chili.

The cook-off would not have been the success it was without support from the following contributors:

- Athena's
- B's Po Boys
- Calvin Fletcher's Coffee Co.
- Funk Yard
- Hero House Comics
- Humble Pie
- IMAX Theater
- Indiana Repertory Theatre
- La Margarita
- New Day Meadery

A special thanks to Fountain Square Brewery for providing their space, Flanner Buchanan for providing water, bowls, utensils, and chairs, and to St. Athanasius Church for providing tables for the chili entrants!

Emmerich Manual School Yearbooks Online

And speaking of Manual, if you are a graduate of Manual High School or have a relative who is a grad, go online at <http://digitallibrary.imcpl.org/cdm/landingpage/collection/emhs> to view digital scans of old yearbooks. You can search by first and/or last names to find out information about where someone is located. This was made possible through a grant teaming IUPUI and the Indianapolis Marion County Public Library. Due to privacy issues, later yearbooks with current students are not available.
